JACK ANDERSON'S WASHINGTON LETTER
February 1985

January 29--Had lunch (tuna sandwich and skimmed milk) with Charlie Wick in his office. He's presidential intimate who heads U.S. Information Agency. Told me that Reagan is fiercely loyal to Ed Meese, that he regards attacks on Meese as attacks on himself, that Reagan isn't at all intimidated by press and congressional critics. Wick quoted Reagan as saying fiercely, "I don't like lynch mobs".... Returned from lunch to find telephone message from Bo Derek, the actress. She wanted to know the truth about Ronald Rewald, CIA undercover man facing criminal fraud charges. She's worried she may be one of his fraud victims.
